Key Activities

- The commission and publication of a Briefing paper on eTextbooks and third party eLearning products and their implications for Australian university libraries, and Executive Summary. Prepared by Dr Gillian Hallam for CAUL and released in September 2012.
- CAUL shared the results of the research materials digitisation survey. The focus of the survey was to capture digitisation activity and capability within member organisations and to document the extent of current activity.
- A successful CAUL Leadership Institute was held August 2012. The conference highlighted the major issues influencing the shape of the Australian higher education sector and their implications for university libraries, now and into the future. The participants were informed and challenged to think about change and what defines a successful academic library.
- The CLTAC Workshop on Transnational Education was held in May 2012. Presentations covered a range of issues including copyright, licensing and how libraries can add value and contribute to their institute’s international engagement.
- COSIAC published two briefing papers Increasing access to scholarly outputs and Open Access Policies.
- CEIRAC successfully negotiated new pricing models with the Royal Society of Chemistry, Royal Society of Medicine and LexisNexis.
- CCSAC revised the CAUL Principles and Guidelines for Library Services to Staff and Students at Remote Locations.

Collaboration

- CAUL members participated with CAUDIT and ACODE members in the planning committee for the Higher Education Technology Agenda (THETA) 2013 conference to be held in Hobart in April 2013.
- CAUL continued to work with ALIA and sectoral groups on eBooks and e-lending.
- CAUL contributed to the development of Libraries Australia through its representatives Anne Horn and Liz Burke.
- CAUL members and staff participated in international meetings of SCONUL, IATUL and ICOLC.

Higher Education Policy

CAUL contributed submissions to a range of government and other public inquiries:

- Australian Research Council Stakeholder Consultation. Linkage Infrastructure - Equipment and Facilities.
- The Strategic Review of Health and Medical Research in Australia.
- The Attorney General’s Extending Legal Deposit review.
Awards

The CAUL International Travelling Fellowship for 2013 was awarded to Kylie Nickels, Library Event Manager of the University of Melbourne, to investigate the gamut of activities involved in library engagement with its community. She will look at best practice management of these activities, methodologies to analyse performance in this area, and how models of engagement can transform relationships with Australian research libraries.

The CAUL Achievement Award for 2012 was made to Karen Tang, Associate Director Corporate Services, Curtin University. Karen has made a major contribution to the achievement of CAUL’s goals in delivering library quality and value. She has drawn on her experience in establishing Curtin University Library’s comprehensive quality framework to promote quality assurance and assist other libraries to evaluate and improve their own quality programs.

Planning

A review of both CAIRSS and COSIAC was completed and plans confirmed for these two committees to discontinue at the end of 2012. Much of the work will be handed over to a new Research Advisory Committee (CRAC) to commence in 2013, with the copyright work handed to the CCA. CAUL’s new Strategic Plan 2013-2015 was finalised in 2012.
