Customize Your Collection - NewsBank's Unique Advantage

NewsBank Newspapers-Australia offers a unique advantage — the ability to customize your collection to meet your library's specific requirements. To assure your collection meets your needs, build it yourself by selecting from over 110 Australian newspapers. Select titles specific to one Australian state, territory or a compilation of sources from several of them— the choice is yours. Newspaper content from countries other than Australia is also available, including New Zealand, Asia, the UK, and the United States.

What's Included

NewsBank Newspapers-Australia provides state coverage including regional and community titles. For each title the full-text of all staff-written news stories is included, and these articles are complemented by additional sections, including obituaries, literary criticism, people, editorial pieces, book/film/art reviews, and more. In fact, the entire newspaper is included with the exception of notices, classifieds, pictures, and advertisements to provide you with comprehensive information.

Years of Coverage

To help your patrons understand issues and events more thoroughly, backfile coverage for all titles is included. These retrospective years provide background information important to understanding today's news. To keep the collection as current as possible, new articles are added daily.

Easy Web Access

All of the articles in NewsBank Newspapers-Australia are searchable through a single interface, which allows searches from many access points. A full bibliographic citation accompanies the full-text of each article, and the intuitive interface allows users to search an individual newspaper or multiple titles simultaneously.
