International Law in Domestic Courts

Documenting legal issues from around the globe...

International Law in Domestic Courts (ILDC) brings you the most important and up to date public international law issues being decided in domestic courts across the world today. With legal experts in the field covering over sixty countries, this online service highlights the full range of jurisprudence in a format that makes it easy to pinpoint specific legal issues, and to compare how these issues have been dealt with in different jurisdictions.

A vital resource for both lawyers in practice and legal scholars in a rapidly evolving field, ILDC tracks the changes in the law as they occur, offering updates every two weeks on cases around the world.

An invaluable online law resource...

- International law from over 60 jurisdictions - legal scholars comment on key domestic cases, providing a legal context to understand the implications of how national courts have interpreted international law in reaching their decisions.

- Traditional headnotes are supplemented by analytical, expert commentary on each case, and include further references, bibliography, subsequent developments, and cases and instruments cited.

- Full texts of all decisions appear in the original language.

- English translations of key passages of all non-English language decisions.

- Rigorous selection process seeks to include both those cases that are relevant for the identification and interpretation of principles and rules of general international law (principles of jurisdiction, immunities, state succession, responsibility, general principles), as well as cases relevant for the identification and interpretation of principles and rules of international law in certain functional fields, such as human rights law, international criminal law, and many more.

- Archive material goes back to the start of 2000.

- New cases and updates are added fortnightly, with over 150 new cases being added each year.

www.oxfordlawreports.com
ILDC is a time-saving tool for...

- Lawyers in practice who require speedy access to relevant jurisprudence in order to strengthen their arguments before international and domestic courts, and before arbitral tribunals
- Judges who need to reference decisions made by other judges faced with similar issues
- Government lawyers who want to analyse the empirical evidence of the international law practice of a variety of states
- Scholars who can easily locate relevant judgements across multiple jurisdictions

Subscriber services include...

- Extensive online help and excellent customer and technical support
- Detailed usage statistics allow you to track how often your users are accessing International Law in Domestic Courts
- OpenURL compliance enables your users to query your library catalogue direct from bibliographies

Excellent functionality and an important research resource...

- Quick search by word or phrase from every web page
- Advanced search options allow users to refine their results – search by jurisdiction, keyword, parties, ILDC case number, dates, and category. Boolean and wildcard searching allow users to construct more complex queries
- Advanced print options allow users to print the headnote separately, or choose to print the report in full
- Browse by key category, jurisdiction, or choose to view all the cases reported in ILDC alphabetically
- Extensive cross-references between the headnote and judgement, and across all the case reports in ILDC, provide an alternative way to browse the reports, and give a fuller understanding of each case
- Sign up for case alerts and receive emails when new and updated reports are added

---

How to subscribe

International Law in Domestic Courts is available by subscription to institutions and individuals worldwide.

- Institutions: Subscription prices are based on the size and type of institution. Please contact us for a price quotation (see right for details)
- Individuals: Please contact us for a price quotation (see right for details)

Free trials available!
Free trials of all our online products are available to institutions. Librarians and central resource coordinators can register for a trial at www.oxfordonline.com/free trials.

---

How to contact us

For further information about all Oxford Online products, and to request institutional free trials and price quotations, please contact us:

Customers outside North and South America
- E: onlineproducts@oup.com
- T: +44 (0)1865 353705
- F: +44 (0)1865 353308

Customers in North and South America
- E: oxfordonline@oup.com
- T: 1 800 624 0153
- F: 1 919 677 8877

---

Oxford University Press offers a wide range of acclaimed online resources across many subject areas. To view a full list of products, visit www.oxfordonline.com