LexisNexis® Practical Guidance®
Transform the student legal research experience with our new practical support tool

LexisNexis Practical Guidance is like having your own legal specialist on your desktop. It improves your student’s ability to learn by providing links from the guidance notes, which offer commentary on legal issues and principles, to the relevant cases and legislation. LexisNexis Practical Guidance will improve the accuracy of student’s research by providing instant direction and access to up-to-date information arranged by topic area.

There is a home page for each area of law that contains all the essential resources that your students need. The information has been chosen and compiled by specialists from Australia’s leading law firms, such as Corrs Chambers Westgarth and Watts McCray, so you can be sure it is definitive and current.

LexisNexis Practical Guidance provides 24/7 online access to:
- Cases
- Legislation
- Commentary

"LexisNexis Practical Guidance is very easy to use. The information available varies from basic such as the checklist for preparing affidavits to complex discussions on superannuation and financial agreements. As a first year lawyer building on the basics I have been able to easily locate and filter information that would otherwise have taken longer to do through other legal research engines."
