The Max Planck Encyclopedia of Public International Law Online

LAUNCHING AUGUST 2008

A NEW EDITION OF THE DEFINITIVE REFERENCE WORK ON PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL LAW

- Fully revised version of the print edition initially published under the auspices of Rudolf Bernhardt
- The 1,700 articles include more than 700 new topics not covered in the previous edition
- Reflects modern developments with greatly increased coverage of international criminal law, international dispute settlement, trade law and environmental law
- Written by over 650 scholars and practitioners drawn from all over the world
- Edited by a team of the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg under the auspices of Rüdiger Wolfrum
- Each article peer reviewed by the members of the Advisory Board

From August 2008 the online edition of the updated Encyclopedia will launch, with new material added quarterly, reaching completion in 2010. The online edition will include full search functionality and click-through cross references to other Encyclopedia entries as well as to related content in the online service Oxford Reports on International Law. A print edition will become available in 2010.

GENERAL EDITOR: Rüdiger Wolfrum, Director at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law, Heidelberg

Oxford Reports on International Law is a new online service bringing together decisions on public international law from international courts and tribunals, domestic courts and ad hoc tribunals. For the first time the full scope of international case law will be available in one place, accompanied by expert analysis and powerful navigation.

Keep up to date with the entire body of international law jurisprudence
New cases will be added fortnightly, making ORIL the first port of call for up-to-date information.

Broaden your research horizons
Expert translations of key passages of decisions in other languages are provided, bringing to life a new world of relevant case law for the first time.

The flexibility to meet your needs
Subscribers to ORIL will have access to all five modules in one seamless environment giving the greatest degree of coverage. Each module is also available separately or in any combination of the five.

Informed commentary and analysis
As well as the broad coverage and continual updating, Oxford Reports on International Law enhances case reports with high quality analysis and commentary. Written and collated by a pool of distinguished experts, the in-depth information includes:

- Headnote
- Summary of case facts and judicial holdings
- Full text of the opinion of the Court
- Analytical commentary from scholarly experts
- Accurate translations into English of key passages of non-English decisions
- List of cases and instruments cited

FOLLOW THE CITATION TRAIL...
The Oxford Law Citator is a powerful research tool provided as part of all legal online services from Oxford. It enables users to check essential information on every citation, and makes the research process quicker and easier by providing validated links to a range of valuable resources. If decisions listed by the Citator are also reported within ORIL, users can also follow links straight to them. In this way ORIL is the perfect starting point for serious international law research.
