We understand your library’s need to provide dynamic, current and rigorously peer-reviewed journal content, at prices that are predictable and sustainable.

To help you achieve this Taylor & Francis has introduced the 1-2-3 Deal: a new pricing structure for the Taylor & Francis Library which is available for a limited period of time.

The 1-2-3 Deal:

√ enables you to licence the 1,160-plus journals from the Taylor & Francis Library for 2010, 2011, 2012
√ allows you to predict your spend on our content for those three years with guaranteed price caps of 1% in 2010, 2% in 2011 and 3% in 2012
√ offers unbeatable value and quality

What’s more – customers who subscribe to this deal will also receive access to our newly-launched titles for their first and second volumes.

Taylor & Francis 1-2-3 Deal FAQ Document

Welcome to the Taylor & Francis 1-2-3 Deal. The following document contains FAQs on the terms and conditions and scope of our offer. If you have any further questions we will be delighted to help. You can contact us by sending an email to library@tandf.co.uk, or by getting in touch with your local sales representative: http://www.tandf.co.uk/libsite/salesteam.asp.

Q. What is the 1-2-3 promotion?
A. The Taylor & Francis 1-2-3 Deal enables libraries to subscribe to the Taylor & Francis Library for 2010, 2011 and 2012. In return, we guarantee to customers who subscribe via the 1-2-3 deal an annual price cap of 1% in 2010, 2% in 2011 and 3% in 2012. This price cap covers both core subscriptions and access fee.

Q. What is the Taylor & Francis Library?
A. The Taylor & Francis Library brings together online journal content from three of the world's leading publishers: Taylor & Francis, Routledge and Psychology Press. It allows libraries to expand their current collection of Taylor & Francis Group journals in a cost-effective and convenient manner. The Taylor & Francis Library incorporates established journals (journals which are in their eighth volume and beyond) from the T&F Science & Technology Library and T&F Social Science & Humanities Library, providing your library with a solution to its eJournals needs: online access to current content and a backfile stretching from 1997 covering over 1,160 journals.

T&F Science & Technology Library: Provide online access to over 260 peer-reviewed journals in Science & Technology subjects from the renowned Taylor & Francis imprint.

T&F Social Science & Humanities Library: Access more than 900 quality journals in 14 Social Science & Humanities disciplines from the pioneering Routledge and Psychology Press imprints.

A list of the titles currently included in the Taylor & Francis Library is available from your local sales representative.

Q. Do I have to purchase both the T&F Science & Technology Library and T&F Social Science & Humanities Library to qualify for this deal?
Yes, the 1-2-3 Deal refers to the complete T&F Library. Customers who wish to purchase the T&F Science & Technology Library or the T&F Social Science & Humanities Library individually may do so using our normal pricing structure.

Q. Do I have to maintain my current subscriptions?
A. All 2008 institutional subscriptions must be renewed for 2009 and subsequently throughout each year of the 3 year agreement to qualify for this deal, either in print plus online or online only formats.

Q. Can I substitute new titles for cancelled subscriptions?
A. In exceptional circumstances we can allow for substitution, i.e. a department or programme is closing. In those cases new titles of the same value may then be substituted for cancelled titles. Permission must be sought from your T&F Sales Representative in advance of any substitution.
Q. Is an additional fee payable?
A. Yes, libraries must renew their core subscription and then pay an additional access fee. In order to purchase the combined ST Library and SSH Library in 2009 our access fee is: 9% of your core subscription, or $19,750/€15,700, whichever is higher. For 2010 we will again be charging an additional fee of 9% of your core subscription fee (with a 1% increase), or $19,947/€15,857, whichever is higher. The same will apply for 2011 and 2012 in accordance with the price caps outlined above.

Q. Can the price be pro-rated?
A. All subscriptions must run January to December, so the price may not be pro-rated.

Q. Will newly-acquired content be included?
A. Taylor & Francis’ journal programme aims to deliver relevant, quality research to our customers, and as such we work to develop our list by adding the very best established periodicals to our list. We reserve the right to include newly-acquired content of up to 25 titles per year as part of the 1-2-3 deal. If a library already has a subscription to any of these titles on acquisition they will henceforth be regarded as part of their core subscription for the following year and thus subject to our no-cancellation policy. If a library does not have a subscription to a title it will be provided as part of the 1-2-3 agreement at no extra charge. Any newly-acquired content above the limit of 25 titles per year will be available for purchase.

Q. You mention that the T&F Library contains established journals. How do I access newer titles?
A. At Taylor & Francis we keep our list dynamic by launching new journals which give voice to developing areas of research. In order to give you a taster of our new journals programme we will provide customers with free access to all titles in their 1st and 2nd Volumes via the T&F New Launch Trial for the duration of the agreement. Thereafter, T&F Library customers have the option to purchase access to content in volumes 3-7 as a complete package at 50% discount on list price, or to subscribe to these titles individually.

Great! When can I sign up?
A. Customers will need to commit to this deal any time between now and April 6th 2009. Due to the exceptional terms of this special offer no extension to this deadline is permissible. Thereafter customers will be referred to the standard pricing model for the T&F Library.

How do I sign up?
A. You can sign up by contacting your local sales representative (see http://www.tandf.co.uk/libsite/salesteam.asp for details), or by getting in touch with your subscriptions agent if you prefer.
