Electronic Collection Sets

The provision of E-Collection Sets is a Libraries Australia service enabling libraries to purchase MARC records for electronic full-text collections. This provides an easy way for libraries and organisations to acquire bibliographic data for electronic resources and improved access to electronic resources.

All records that form part of an E-Collection set are provided as a base set upon subscription. You will then continue to receive quarterly updates.

Your holdings and URL (if requested) will be added to the ANBD record before the record set is supplied to you. The cost is just $330 per annum.

To order a Libraries Australia E-collection product you must be a Libraries Australia member. An online order form is available from within the Libraries Australia Administration service, located under the Products tab. You will need to have Customer Administrator access enabled to access the Products order form. Please contact us to request this if necessary.

For more information on the E-Collection Sets available please click here.

For detailed instructions on how to order a product, please see the Products section in the Libraries Australia Administration Manual.

Brenda Niall, Seven Little Billabongs. The World of Ethel Turner and Mary Grant Bruce. Melbourne University Press, 1979

In Seven Little Billabongs Brenda Niall not only explores the contrast between their world (which rest together as uneasily as the composite title chosen by her) but also gives a brief sketch of the lives and literary careers of Turner and Bruce. Her concern is not with 'questions of literary merit'.

Seven Little Billabongs will bring further enjoyment to those who have enjoyed the novels of Ethel Turner and Mary Grant Bruce. As one of the growing number of critical works which deal with Australian children's literature it will also be an important contribution to that field. The composite picture it presents of A...

Search Libraries Australia using OpenSearch

Libraries Australia is now compliant with the OpenSearch search protocol and is registered as an OpenSearch source at A9.com. You can use an OpenSearch compliant client to search Libraries Australia or even build your own service that includes Libraries Australia as an OpenSearch target.

You can add Libraries Australia and PictureAustralia to the Search Engines list in Firefox 2 or Internet Explorer 7. When you connect to Libraries Australia from your browser, both services will be listed in the Search Engines list within the browser toolbar. You can select either database, type your query in the search box beside the Libraries Australia or PictureAustralia icon and then link straight through to your results.

The National Library of Australia is encouraging Australian collecting institutions to support the OpenSearch protocol through its federated search project.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar containing "iesaustralia.nla.gov.au/apps/kss". The browser toolbar shows several search engine icons, with a green oval highlighting the OpenSearch icon. The webpage content includes the "Libraries Australia - Home" title, a search bar, and navigation links such as "Login", "Logout", "Contact Us", "About Us", and "Help". A welcome message for "AKINNLA (shared)" is visible, along with a "Browse Terms" button and a "Search History" button.
