Definitions. "Britannica" means Encyclopædia Britannica Australia Ltd, whose address is Level 1, 90 Mount Street, Sydney, NSW 2069, Australia. "Subscriber" is the institution signing this Subscription Form for purposes of subscribing to one or more of the Encyclopædia Britannica® Online Services identified above (each, a "Service" and collectively, the "Services"). Subscriber may be a business ("Business"), government agency ("Agency"), school and related facilities ("School"), college or university ("University") or public library ("Library"). If applicable, Subscriber, as agent, signs this Agreement on behalf of the Businesses, Agencies, Schools, Universities and Libraries described on the attached Appendix A (collectively referred to herein as "Consortium Members"). "Authorised Users" are the following: (i) employees, agents or representatives in the case of Businesses and Agencies; (ii) students of Subscriber, its faculty members, administrators, and employed staff in the case of Schools; (iii) full or part-time students of Subscriber, its faculty members, administrators and employed staff in the case of Universities; and (iv) patrons, library customers or users employees, agents or representatives in the case of Libraries. "Agreement" means this Subscription Form, the Encyclopædia Britannica® Online Services Usage Agreement in the form posted from time to time on the Services, and any Britannica policies relating to subscriptions to the Services of which Subscribers has been informed in writing.

Consortium Subscribers. Subscriber agrees and represents that it has the agreement of all Consortium Members to enter into this Agreement and that each Consortium Member accepts and agrees to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, as if it had itself executed the same. Consortium Members are entitled to the rights, responsibilities, and privileges set forth for Subscriber under this Agreement. Subject to Britannica's prior approval, Subscriber may increase the number of Consortium Members (including their respective member State libraries) by providing prior written notice thereof and paying an additional Subscription Fee, as determined by Britannica.

Renewal of Subscription; Subscription Fees. After the Initial Term, this subscription shall be automatically renewed for successive periods of one year (each, a "Renewal Term") unless either party elects to terminate by providing written notice to the other at least 30 days prior to expiration of the Initial or any Renewal Term. Each Renewal Term Subscription Fee shall be calculated at the then current subscription rates and payment terms offered by Britannica to similarly situated subscribers. Subscription Fees are due 30 days after invoice and are exclusive of any and all taxes (including GST), fees, customs duties, tariffs and other charges.

Subscriber Security Measures. Subscriber agrees to take such steps as are necessary to protect the Services from unauthorized use, disclosure or third party access. Such steps shall be at least of the same quality and sophistication as Subscriber uses to protect electronic transmissions of its own intellectual property from unauthorized use, and shall include, but not be limited to, disclosing the Services security code only to Authorized Users. At Britannica's request, Subscriber will disclose to Britannica such security measures as are then being used by Subscriber to prevent access by other than Authorized Users.

Usage Agreement. By signing this Subscription Form, Subscriber acknowledges that Subscriber has read the Encyclopædia Britannica® Online Services Usage Agreement details and agrees to abide by its terms and conditions as currently in effect and as they may be changed from time to time and posted on the Services or as made available to Subscriber by other means.

Notices. All notices provided in accordance with this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be sent to the parties at their respective addresses on this page. Notices shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, and shall be considered given three days after the date mailed.

Encyclopædia Britannica® Online Services Usage Agreement

Terms of Use

These Terms of Use govern your use of Encyclopædia Britannica® Online and, unless other terms and conditions expressly govern, any other electronic services provided by Encyclopædia Britannica, Inc. ("Britannica") that may be available from time to time (collectively, the "Services").

General: Your use of the Services constitutes your agreement to these Terms of Use. If you do not agree with these Terms of Use, please do not use the Services. Britannica reserves the right to change, modify, add, or remove portions of these Terms of Use at any time. Please check this page periodically for any modifications. Your use of any of the Services following the posting of changes constitutes your acceptance of the changes.

Ownership: The content on the Services is the property of Britannica, its affiliated companies or licensors and is protected by international copyright, patent, and trademark laws.

Use of Content: You may display, print or download content on the Services only for your personal, non-commercial use, provided you do not remove or alter any copyright, trademark, service mark or other proprietary notices or legends. You may not publish, distribute, retransmit, sell or provide access to the content on the Services, except as permitted under applicable law and as described in these Terms of Use.

You may not engage in systematic retrieval of content from the Services to create or compile, directly or indirectly, a collection, compilation, database, or directory without written permission from Britannica. Nor may you mirror on your own site the home page or results pages of the Services.

If you want to post, publish, or use content from (or contained within) the Services on your Web site or in any other Internet activity, you will need permission from Britannica (except for linking, which is described below), even though your Web site or Internet activity is free of charge. Requests should be directed to bol@britannica.com.au

Linking to the Services: For details on how to link to the Services, email bol@britannica.com.au. Please contact Britannica when you link to the Services, so that Britannica can better understand how its content is being accessed and so that you can be contacted when changes are made to the Services that could invalidate your links. Any linking to the Services will be at your own risk and expense.

By linking to the Services, you agree that you will not:

- imply that Britannica endorses your site, products or services or that you are affiliated with Britannica in any way.
- frame Britannica content, surround it with your own advertising or identity, or charge a fee for any link to the Services.
- link to the Services from any page containing libellous, obscene or criminal material, or material that infringes, violates, or advocates the infringement or violation of any third party rights.
- host, publish, broadcast, rewrite or redistribute any content on the Services except as permitted in these Terms of Use or as specifically permitted by Britannica.

Remote Access: Only individual members of the Institution are permitted to access Britannica Online remotely.

Disclaimer of Warranties: THE SERVICES AND ALL INFORMATION, PRODUCTS, AND OTHER CONTENT INCLUDED IN OR ACCESSIBLE FROM THE SERVICES ARE PROVIDED "AS IS" AND WITHOUT WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND (EXPRESS, IMPLIED, AND STATUTORY, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE), ALL OF WHICH BRITANNICA EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW.

Limitation of Liability: IN NO EVENT SHALL BRITANNICA, ITS DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, SHAREHOLDERS, PARENTS, SUBSIDIARIES, AFFILIATES, AGENTS AND LICENSORS, OR CONTENT PROVIDERS BE LIABLE FOR ANY INDIRECT, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL, PUNITIVE, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THE USE, INABILITY TO USE, PERFORMANCE OR NONPERFORMANCE OF THE SERVICES, EVEN IF BRITANNICA WAS PREVIOUSLY ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES AND REGARDLESS OF WHETHER SUCH DAMAGES ARISE IN CONTRACT, TORT, UNDER STATUTE, IN EQUITY, AT LAW, OR OTHERWISE.

Governing Law: These Terms of Use are governed by the laws of New South Wales, Australia and the parties agree to submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the Courts of New South Wales, without giving effect to any principles of conflicts of laws.

Security: If you are a subscriber to any of the Services that are available by subscription (the "Subscription Services"), your right to use the Subscription Services is personal to you or members of your immediate family residing with you. If you are authorized by a subscriber (such as your employer, a school or library) to access and use any of the Subscription Services, your right to use the Subscription Services is not transferable. You are responsible for protecting the confidentiality of your credentials for access to the Subscription Services (e.g., your username and password) and for complying with any guidelines prescribed by Britannica from time to time to prevent unauthorized access to the Subscription Services. You agree to immediately notify Britannica of any unauthorized use of your password or any other breach of security. Britannica reserves the right to perform one-way encryption of passwords for account maintenance purposes.

Additional Terms Applicable to Subscribers to the Subscription Services:

- Definitions: As used in these additional terms, "you" or "yours" refers to each person who establishes a subscriber account ("Account") or who is authorized to access and use any of the Subscription Services.
- Account: You are responsible for all use of your Account under any user ID (username) or password by any person and for ensuring that all use of your Account complies fully with the provisions of this Usage Agreement.
- Termination of Subscription: Either party shall have the right to terminate your subscription at any time by providing notice of termination to the other. In the event of termination of your subscription by either party, you shall have no claims against Britannica or its affiliates. Termination of your subscriptions automatically terminates your license to use the Subscription Services and any content or other material contained therein.
