COMMUNITY
Communities of Practice for authors and library staff

CoPs | About

The Communities of Practice focus on authoring and publishing open access textbooks in participating institutions.

A forum for
- exchange of ideas
- information sharing
- capacity building
- peer support
- exploration of issues
- discussion of recent developments and practices
- community-led training or professional development.

Discussions will focus on
- understanding open access licences and copyright
- the OER publishing workflow
- grant opportunities
- supporting academic staff members in the OER publishing process
- fostering information sharing and collaboration between CAUL member institutions.
