

A very short guide to Pressbooks webinars

Thank you for taking the time to attend or watch a Pressbooks webinar! You're one big step closer to using Pressbooks and developing your OER project with high proficiency! In this document, you'll find a bunch of relevant and helpful information, most of which was covered during the session. Our hope is that you'll be able to use this short, quick guide to help you quickly find resources.

Survey

If you attended a webinar, please take a moment to fill out this survey. It will help us improve our webinars in the future! <https://forms.gle/pNa7MHqblQ9LHeDw9>

Resources

The following are the resources and guides which were presented during both of the webinars. If you have any questions that you need answered, please reach out to your campus's Pressbooks network manager (Don't know who that is?).

1. Pressbooks Guide (In the Guide, there's a chapter for each topic covered in the webinar!)
2. Pressbooks Directory
3. Pressbooks Youtube channel
4. WordPress oEmbed allowed domains
5. How to use H5P on Pressbooks
6. How to use Hypothesis
7. Math on Pressbooks
8. Accessibility on Pressbooks
9. BC Campus Accessibility Tool Kit
10. Ryerson Chang School of Continuing Education's accessibility resources

About Pressbooks webinars

We offer two different webinars, one for beginner users, and one for advanced users (detailed description on our guide). Anyone who is using PressbooksEDU or is interested in learning about PressbooksEDU can register for them on our website. All those who've registered for the event will be sent the recording after the session is over.

If you want to see a recorded version of these sessions, you can find them on our Youtube channel: Getting Started with Pressbooks & Advanced Publishing with Pressbooks