

Charter - CAUL Transformative Agreements Implementation Community of Practice

Purpose

The purpose of the Transformative Agreements Community of Practice is to provide a forum for CAUL Member institution staff to engage in collegial professional learning and information sharing related to implementation and management of transformative agreements.

The Community of Practice provides a forum for

- exchange of ideas
- information sharing
- peer support
- exploration of issues
- discussion of recent developments and practises
- community-led training or professional development.

Scope

The Community of Practice focuses on implementation and management of transformative agreements in institutions, including the ways that library staff work within the broader institution to support implementation.

Discussions focus on

- read and publish agreements negotiated by CAUL
- other transformative agreements, including those that institutions have directly with publishers.

Term

The Community of Practice will operate from January to December 2022, at which time, the ongoing need for the group will be reviewed.

Engagement Principles

General

The following engagement principles apply to all CAUL Communities of Practice.

The Community of Practice provides an inclusive, welcoming and safe space for members to engage in critical discussion, information sharing, professional learning, and problem solving. Members agree to enact the following norms as they engage in the Community of Practice:

- Members participate in the Community of Practice in their capacity as staff of CAUL Member institutions.
- Members must use an email address for a CAUL Member institution to subscribe to the email list.
- Members engage respectfully using appropriate language.
- Members are free to share openly, debate ideas, and challenge perspectives, however, critique is focused on ideas, not individuals, and personal attacks are not acceptable.
- Members engage constructively in group discussions, listening and responding with an open mind. Members recognise the value of diverse voices in community discussion and encourage each other to participate.
- Members speak from their own experience and represent their own perspectives. They do not presume to speak for the group.
- Members agree to a transparent membership:
 - Members agree to include a signature on all emails sent to the list that includes their name and institutional affiliation.
 - Members agree to their email address being published on a list of subscribers visible to list members via the email list system.
- Members do not post commercial messages on the email list. Rather, they contact individuals directly with product and service information if they believe it would help them.

Additional Principles

The Transformative Agreements Implementation Community of Practice members agree to enact the following norms:

- Members agree to maintain confidentiality of discussions in meetings, unless permission is explicitly given to share more broadly than the members in attendance.
- Members do not forward or share information posted on the email list unless explicit consent has been given by the sender to do so.
- Members use caution when discussing products or services, in recognition that emails are easily forwarded or reproduced and are subject to defamation laws.

- Members consider the commercial-in-confidence nature of agreements when discussing agreements in Community of Practice spaces.

This Charter was based in part on the Community of Practice Charter Template from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Communities for Public Health.
